TOURISM is not a high priority on the local authority's agenda, according to a local councillor.

Dover district councillor Sue Nicholas caused uproar at a Kent Hotels and Restaurants Association meeting in Dover on Thursday.

She said: "Tourism is not high on the agenda. We simply don't have the funds to do it. People's main concern is money for the anti-social behaviour unit and so money went towards that instead of events."

"As a council we cannot put on events. We can help and attend, but we can only be there in a supporting role."

Cllr Nicholas is responsible for her authority's events and leisure, and so many people attending the meeting were unhappy at her comments.

Mike McFarnell, chairman of the Kent Hotels and Restaurant Association, said: "It was a bit disappointing that she didn't see the positive side and that she kept looking at the problems of Dover rather than the positive things. After all, the meeting was about what we can do to bring more people to east Kent."

Peter Bettley, PR director of Folkestone's Creative Foundation, explained at the meeting the benefits of the town's regeneration project and how it could also help Dover.

But in response, Cllr Nicholas said: "If Dover had someone who had that much money to offer [as Folkestone benefactor Roger De Haan], we would be delighted. We just don't have the funding or someone there to give it to us."

Bob Markham, Mayor of Dover, said: "I was absolutely gobsmacked at the response to Peter Bettley's presentation by Cllr Sue Nicholas. She is the events officer at Dover District Council and was there to represent them."

"She was very negative, basically saying no funding, no events. There was no positivity."

It's no crime to help the community

■ BY MARIJKE COX

PETTY criminals are giving something back to the community through their work at Crabble Corn Mill.

Anthony Reid, general manager at the mill, said: "The two groups we have working for us are doing a great job. They all work really hard and take pride in their work."

The mill, which is operated and maintained by the Crabble Corn Mill Trust, was opened in 1990 after being rescued from demolition.

The farm shop, situated in the miller's cottage and which is run by volunteers, is being renovated by community workers.

Mr Reid said: "The lads have been renovating the farm shop, but unfortunately it is not getting much trade. They put an awful lot of hard work into it and so we are really trying to promote it so that more people visit."

"Another part they are doing is the renovation of the drystone wall on the side of the river and a lot of work is going on in the garden."

"They are happy to do it and we have even had a couple of them finishing their community order and coming back to help us voluntarily."

Aside from learning how to work as a team and committing themselves to community projects, they have also learnt how it feels to be on the receiving end of crime.

Mr Reid said: "We had an incident where some of their work was undone by vandalism."

"The lads had put new windows in and came back to find that they had been smashed."

"This may have given them some understanding into how people feel when they have been the victims of this."

"They put so much effort and pride

DEDICATED: Community workers have taken so much pride in their work at Crabble Corn Mill that many come back as volunteers into their work and so felt quite disheartened by this."

As well as working at the mill, offenders – who are mostly from Dover, Deal and Folkestone – work in different types of jobs while carrying out their community orders.

Some work in charity shops and others assist with the cleaning of graffiti around the area.

Mr Reid said: "A lot of the offences committed are petty crimes at times when they are trying to live and earn money while struggling to get work. Many of the offenders are tradesmen and so we are able to make use of their skills."

"I have been really pleased with all the work they have done and just hope that others can see what a good job they are doing here."

yourdover NEWS IN BRIEF

Biker dies following collision with car

A MOTORCYCLIST has died after a crash on the A258 between Dover and Deal.

Edward Purcell, 21, of Valley Road, Barham, near Canterbury, was travelling in the direction of Deal when his motorcycle collided with a car travelling in the opposite direction close to the St Margaret's junction.

The crash happened on Tuesday last week at 6.55pm. Mr Purcell was taken to the QEQM hospital in Margate, where he later died.

The driver and occupants of the other car were not seriously injured.

Anyone who witnessed the incident is asked to phone 01622 798538.

Police want to speak to driver as witness

A SIXTEEN-year-old girl was almost run over by a people carrier after being pushed by another teenager.

She was thrown in front of the motorist, who swerved to avoid her. A 14-year-old girl was arrested and released on bail following the incident in Folkestone Road, Dover, at 8.45pm on Wednesday last week.

The driver of the silver car is asked to contact PC Jamie Weale at Dover police station.

Speedy success at the travel awards

SPEEDFERRIES has won an important national travel award.

The Dover-based firm has been voted best ferry company by the readers of The Guardian, The Observer and Guardian Unlimited at the publishing group's 21st Travel Awards.

The company runs a low-cost service between Dover and Boulogne.

SpeedFerries is a limited company, registered in England and founded by Danish entrepreneur Curt Stavits.

Fleet's new addition to sail the high seas

P&O FERRIES has bought another ship to join its fleet of 27.

The ferry, bought from the Spanish shipping line Trasmediterranea, can carry 125 freight units and will be used firstly on the Irish Sea and then at peak time on the North Sea and Dover-Calais services.

Quelling the storm of facts following fateful night at sea

Lifeboatman praises all his team-mates

IT is no great surprise that the events of October 16, 1987, are still crystal-clear to the RNLI's Roy Couzens – it was, after all, the date of the Great Storm.

Mr Couzens was acting coxswain of the Dover lifeboat that fateful night, and his name could easily have been added to the list of those who lost their lives during one of the most savage meteorological events to ever be visited upon these shores.

The lifeboat crew's heroics were covered in Yourdover, but Mr Couzens, 60, was one of several callers to inform us that some of the detail was incorrect. So we are of course happy to rectify matters...

At 5am on October 16, Mr Couzens got a call-out. Michael Abbott, Geoffrey Buckland, Dominic McHugh, Christopher Ryan, Robert Bruce and Eric Tanner were the other crew members on call that night.

The cargo vessel Sumnia had lost power and was being steered into the harbour using its anchors. In terrifying sea conditions, it was impossible to berth and the vessel hit the southern breakwater in Dover harbour.

■ BY MARIJKE COX

Unfortunately, the lifeboat crew had their own problems. A rope had got caught around a propeller, and until it was cut they were going nowhere.

Mr Couzens said: "I think that it was a blessing in disguise. If we'd been able to launch earlier, we would have gone straight outside the harbour and died trying to get people off the boat instead of out of the water later on."

Two of the crew of the Sumnia were washed off their vessel by an enormous wave and picked up by the lifeboat. Another was found by a tug.

The rest of the crew jumped ship, so the lifeboat went to look for them.

Battling through massive waves and despite fears of capsizing, a search pattern was initiated. A Sumnia crew member was taken on board and resuscitated. After taking the casualties to shore, the lifeboat headed back out to search for the rest of the Sumnia's crew – but it was to no avail.

A body was washed up two days later, but the captain was never found.

Mr Couzens said: "At this point I was in considerable pain. I'd been winded by a wave that had come over us and I thought I'd broken a rib."

"I was having trouble breathing and was taken back to shore."

Mr Couzens had suffered a burst blood vessel behind his heart and had to spend 10 days in hospital recuperating.

The crew members that night were commended for their outstanding seamanship with medals from the RNLI.

Mr Couzens said: "Although I received a silver medal and the others a bronze, it was really a team effort and they all deserve the same recognition."

Asked how things had changed over the years, Mr Couzens said: "Although technology has changed, the calibre of men is the same."

HEROIC STUFF: Roy Couzens was in the frontline of the storm

Police stop youths in safety campaign

MORE than a hundred youths were stopped in Dover and Deal during the second weekend of the Safer Autumn Campaign.

In Deal, 41 teenagers were stopped and 13 alcohol confiscations took place on Friday and Saturday, October 26-27.

In Dover, 63 were stopped and six had alcohol taken off them.

Police and PCSOs are patrolling the streets at weekends during a scheme to target anti-social behaviour and alcohol-fuelled crime and disorder.

Police are reminding people that anyone under the age of 18 found in possession of a firework will be arrested.

Two years of court hearings leads to three months in jail

IT took two years for Andrew Hopper to appear for sentence charged with damaging a cell at Dover police station, assault on police and using threatening words.

But after 20 court appearances the result was Hopper, 44, of Christchurch Court, Dover, being jailed for three months.

After the hearing on Thursday, Hopper's lawyer Pat Cuff mounted an instant appeal against the sentence, but it was turned down by a separate bench.

Folkestone magistrates were told that Hopper was picked up in Dover after threatening people in the street in May 2005.

When he was put in a cell he flooded it by stuffing a mattress down the toilet, and officers using riot shields had to pull him out.

In the melee that followed, PC Gary Wright was kicked in the chest.

Hopper had been found guilty on all three charges following the magistrates court marathon, and 29 months later they made their decision... after deliberating for two hours.

Mr Cuff argued his client should escape jail because of the length of time it had taken to bring the trial to a conclusion: "Mr Hopper feels a gross injustice about this case."

"No charge flowed from the original search – only from subsequent events... My client felt he was being abused and his personal privacy was being breached."

The lawyer said officers slipped on the flooded floor and it was then that PC Wright was kicked.

Mr Cuff said his client suffered from bipolar disorder and didn't have a drink or drugs problem.

Sentencing Hopper to 90 days' imprisonment for assault on police and a concurrent sentence of 30 days for criminal damage, bench chairman Beryl Goodall said Hopper had previously ruled out any form of community penalty and had ignored court orders.

She said: "Coming to our decision, we have taken the delay into account but nevertheless you will go to prison."

Report proposes fire engines cut

KENT Fire and Rescue Authority has announced proposals to reduce the number of fire engines covering Folkestone.

The authority, which published its consultation on the future of fire cover in Kent on Monday, believes the present level of cover is unnecessary.

In its Integrated Risk Management Plan (IRMP), the fire authority states that the Folkestone station has more engines than any other in the county.

At present there are three fire engines based at Folkestone fire station. Two have a full-time crew, while the third is staffed by part-time firefighters.

The consultation proposes to reduce the number of engines to one full-time and one part-time crew.

The risk of fire in Folkestone is well below the county average, according to the IRMP.

The report adds: "The authority therefore intends to take one of the full-time fire engines from the Folkestone station."

Feast yourself on free festive guide

A GUIDE aimed at promoting cross-Channel travel over the festive season has been launched.

The free guide is intended to encourage shoppers from both sides of the Channel to explore Folkestone and twin town Boulogne-sur-Mer over the winter.

The guide lists Christmas markets, concerts, exhibitions, shows and festivals, and is available from the Folkestone town centre management offices in Sandgate Road, Shepway Civic Centre and Folkestone Town Council, as well as many shops in the district.

It is also available to Eurotunnel travellers at Cheriton and Coquelles.

DON'T SWIM WITH DAVE

The days of people swimming off Sandgate with Dave the Dolphin may be numbered if a leading wildlife group has its way.

The Whale and Dolphin Conservation Society has warned that people who swim near dolphins could be at risk from diseases such as rabies and brucellosis.

The group has called for a total ban in Dolphin Assisted Therapies (DAT), claiming they are harmful to humans and dolphins, as well as being scientifically unproven.

Swimming with dolphins has been promoted as a therapeutic experience for people with learning disabilities such as autism.

But the report, Can You Put Your Faith In DAT?, claims that DAT has little or no benefit for humans, and subjects dolphins to unnecessary cruelty.

As for Dave, our fantastic footage suggests he is full of life and recovering from the recent accident in which he lost a chunk of his tail.

Germany may add to tunnel's traffic

GERMANY'S state-owned rail company is looking to run trains through the Channel Tunnel from the historic city of Cologne.

The plan was revealed after a top-level business meeting of the heads of Europe's largest networks and would involve a partnership with existing Eurostar services.

The plans from Deutsche Bahn would see services reach Cologne from London in four hours and the financial centre of Frankfurt just one hour later.

Some reports in the European media earlier this week claimed the German company wanted to compete with Eurostar.

But a source at the tunnel operator told Yourshepway exclusively: "Eurotunnel will not wish to comment on any rumours because one of the companies involved is working alongside us – and the other one has potential to do so."

"But we can say any moves which will result in an increase in traffic using the tunnel will be very welcome."

■ BY NICK AMES

Any agreement between the two high-speed train companies would be under the umbrella of the Rail Team Alliance, which includes both businesses as well as the French TGV system and the main railways in Spain, Belgium, Holland and Italy.

Deutsche Bahn recently acquired EWS, Britain's biggest freight company, which runs four services a day through the tunnel.

It is believed this move showed the German operators the speed and effectiveness of the cross-Channel link.

German ICE high-speed trains also run from the country's major cities into Paris under an agreement reached earlier this year.

It was the first move to increase the nation's influence and services across the European rail network.

And, to further increase the possibility of its success, the new £5.7 billion High Speed One line through Kent has been specifically built to accommodate trains from major European networks.

The only possible problem with the proposal to extend Deutsche Bahn's operations to the UK is that its rolling stock does not meet existing stringent safety requirements.

At present, passenger trains using the tunnel need to be capable of being divided into two in the event of a fire – and the German services do not have this capability.

Locomotives would also have to be modified in order to cope with the different signalling systems and power supplies on both sides of the Channel.

The high-speed rail link is due to open later this month and is designed to accommodate 20 trains an hour in each direction.

At present, however, only three are scheduled until at least 2010.

Book honours heroic defenders of our skies

A NEW book called The Heroes of Fighter Command: Kent has been published in time for this year's Remembrance Sunday.

It tells the story of the band of pilots whom Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill described as "The Few" and their achievement in beating off the might of the Nazi Luftwaffe in the summer of 1940 – and so halting the threat of a British invasion by Hitler's forces.

The Battle of Britain was fought largely in the skies above Kent and the story of the handful of RAF heroes has been documented by author Rupert Matthews – whose father flew Blenheim bombers during the battle.

"I focused on Kent because it was the busiest county when it comes to the battle, with airfields like Hawkinge under heavy attack.

"What struck me most of all during my research was the way the pilots kept going, day after day, week after week, month after month.

■ BY NICK AMES

"It was all on such a grinding scale – constantly flying up to engage the enemy and then the risk of being bombed while on the ground.

"The way those pilots and ground crews coped – up against overwhelming odds on a continual basis – I found truly inspiring."

Kent's squadrons first saw action on November 21, 1939, when two Hurricane fighters were on patrol over Folkestone. They spotted a German Dornier on a reconnaissance mission and sent it crashing into the sea.

Initial attacks by enemy bombers focused on Channel convoys and radar stations, with the airfields then being bombed. But the Luftwaffe switched its attention to cities on the orders of Hitler after an RAF plane bombed Berlin – at a time when the fighter bases and command centres were on the verge of collapse.

Eventually the attackers suffered such severe losses that they stopped the daily raids – but it would be five long years before the Nazi jackboot was brought to heel by the Allies.

Numerous memorials to the battle, both well known and unheralded, dot the Kent countryside. The statue of a fighter pilot and a replica Hurricane and Spitfire draw thousands of people a year to the cliffs just outside Folkestone.

Other memorials include a museum at Hawkinge and the nearby remains of the officers' mess – now populated by goats. And on the hills above Romney Marsh are the remains of giant listening 'ears' – the forerunners to radar.

"Kent has remembered its heroes and my book pays tribute to them," said Mr Matthews. "It is a tribute to the gallant young men who flew sortie after sortie against desperate odds – heroes every one of them."

Neighbourhood treated to better behaviour

POLICE are claiming that an initiative to prevent anti-social behaviour over the Halloween period has been a success.

Officers across Shepway were on patrol on Halloween, looking for youths who in previous years had used trick or treating as an excuse to terrorise households. More than 50 young people were stopped as part of the Safer Autumn campaign.

Book into social network

THE OVER-50s can now access a Facebook-style social networking site courtesy of holiday giants Saga

The Saga Zone site was developed by the Sandgate-based company which specialises in catering to older people.

More than 13,000 people have already registered and can now access forums on subjects from gardening tips, cookery recipes and public transport to relationship advice.

Recent surveys show computer usage is growing rapidly among the older generation.

Saga chief executive Andrew Goodsell said: "The internet is a place where the over-50s are thriving. They can mingle and chat about issues important to them, be they amusing or serious."

Carole Donald, 68, from Folkestone, recently bought a laptop and is taking instruction from her daughter in how to get online.

"When I heard about this site I was quite excited," she said. "My grandchildren are always talking about youtube and Facebook, so now I can take part in something similar."

Ferry captain believed yacht was not in danger

THE captain of a ferry this week told a court that he would have halted his vessel if he suspected it had been involved in the sinking of a yacht.

Captain Alastair McFadyen was giving evidence at the trial of Michael Hubble, who was officer of the watch on P&O's Pride of Bilbao when it encountered the 25ft boat Ouzo.

The small ship disappeared off the Isle of Wight in August last year and Jason Downer, 35, from Broadstairs and James Meaby and Rupert Saunders, both 36 and from south London, all drowned.

It is believed the yacht was either struck by, or swamped, by the ferry.

Hubble, 62, of Capel-le-Ferne, denies manslaughter through gross negligence and a second charge of engaging in conduct likely to cause death or serious injury.

The hearing at Winchester Crown Court was told this week how Captain McFadyen had been in his cabin in the early hours of August 21 last year.

Hubble had decided not to stop after he and a lookout saw lights which he believed showed the yacht was safe.

Capt McFadyen said he could have been on the bridge within one minute if he had been told about the incident.

"I would want to make sure the yacht's crew was OK and the yacht was OK," he explained.

"Safety of life at sea is more important than schedules.

"If lives are at risk, you do what is necessary to save them."

The trial continues.

QUESTION & ANSWER

KLARE KENNETT

Q How did you get involved with the RSPCA?

A My background is journalism, but I have also always been passionate about animal welfare. When I saw the RSPCA role advertised, it seemed the ideal job for me. I am able to use my knowledge of the media to help promote kindness to animals and prevent cruelty.

Q Have people's attitudes towards animal welfare improved or worsened in recent years?

A In many ways, attitudes towards animal welfare have improved in recent years. For a start, according to an RSPCA report published this month measuring the state of animal welfare in the UK, the proportion of people who feel for a society to be truly civilised animal welfare must be a key priority has leapt from 54 per cent to 73 per cent in the last year.

We also know six out of 10 people think supermarkets should stop selling eggs laid by hens in cages, but more than six out of 10 eggs still come from hens kept in this way, so there is plenty of room for improvement.

There has been a huge increase in the number of meat chickens raised to higher-welfare standards, quadrupling from 10 million in 2004 to more than 40 million this year. However, this is still less than five per cent of the market.

We see that as few as one in five pet shops selling 'exotic' animals such as snakes and primates offer free written information to customers. People buying pets have a legal responsibility to look after them properly, and accessible information from pet shops would help them do this.

Good news is that the number of wild-caught birds imported into the EU has plummeted from 72,000 in 2003 to 11 last year, following a ban. But the number of wild-caught reptiles imported has increased from 11,000 to 18,400 which is worrying.

Q What single practice would you like to see banned?

A I would like to see the extremely cruel and disturbing practice of using primates for research to be banned immediately. We are slowly getting that way, as in the past few weeks MEPs categorically backed a call to bring an end to the use of primates in research.

In the 21st century there should be no room for experimenting on primates. We know these animals are highly intelligent and they can suffer in very similar ways to humans.

There should be new laws which include a clear strategy for replacing primates with humane alternatives.

Q What is the biggest challenge facing the world at present?

A Achieving world peace and seeing an end to poverty and famine. It is incredible that world travel is so accessible to most of the developed world, but still so many people living on this planet are starving to death. A huge challenge facing the world is the issue of cruelty – research has shown that people who carry out vicious attacks on other people often begin by being cruel to animals.

Q Is there anything we can do about it?

A I believe that world peace begins at home and if we start being kinder to each other then we have taken the first important step towards world peace. An act of kindness can make all the difference in the world to someone's day and such acts cause a ripple effect. A thoughtless, cruel remark can hurt badly and have a negative ripple effect. Tiny changes, but if we all thought more about the effect of our actions on other people, then we would not consider waging war on them.

In terms of poverty and famine, it is obscene that so much food is thrown away every day when so many people are starving to death.

In terms of cruelty, the RSPCA is working hard to get the message of kindness, not cruelty, to every schoolchild in this country through our education programme.

Q How big do you think your carbon footprint is?

A I walk wherever I can, rather than use the car, and try to conserve energy at home as much as possible. I recycle everything I can religiously and I also buy local produce as much as possible.

Q & A Klare Kennett, the RSPCA's South East regional press officer, spends her time promoting the work of the society. Here she talks to Gareth Arnold about the changing public attitudes towards animal welfare.

COASTAL WEATHER STATION

Combining a tide clock, barometer and conventional clock, the coastal weather station is an essential tool for coastal living.

The coastal weather station is everything you need to get the most from our incredible coastline: a barometer to determine changing weather patterns; a tide clock to predict when best to go and enjoy yourself and a conventional clock for timing your escape.

Constructed on a solid aluminium base with a tough protective polycarbonate shroud, the coastal weather station is available in two colours. Wall mounted. Dimensions: 300x150mm. Weather forecasting with your coastal weather station.

TIME AND TIDE CLOCK

From sailing to sand castles, we all need to know what the tide is doing!

Synchronised to the moon's daily cycle, the combination time and tide clock gives you an innovative and convenient guide to tides, whilst also providing conventional time keeping. The quartz driven tide hand will rotate every 12 hours and 25 minutes around the solid stainless steel fascia, giving you the state of the tide at a glance. This design also provides an indication of how many hours remain until high or low water.

The black conventional clock hands work quite independently from the tide hand and can be adjusted using the small fly wheel on the back of the movement. The tide hand can be adjusted using the larger wheel, again found on the back of the movement.

1 Changing face of village

One of the most popular historic clips on community TV is this fond look at the east Kent mining village of Adisham. Joe Best uses pictures of his home patch to give a very personal account of growing up there in this rivetingly touching film made by Robert Nash.

2 Guinea pig's a phat hit

Still in the top four clips viewed this week on Yourkenttv, Chubby the guinea pig remains a firm favourite with hundreds of viewers. The film was shot by Alex Roscow, from Rochester, and sees Chubby singing the song Guinea Pig, by band Fear 44.

3 Lookalike's view of Chatham

Almost making Community TV his own, Joe Pasquale-lookalike Nigel Wright saw his first video clip attract more than 1,500 viewers. This is his third film, this time featuring a visit to Capstone Road in Chatham and an account of his parents' first meeting.

4 Work in progress

furniture for life

The latest plasma screens have revolutionised television viewing, but the sheer size of these enormous units means they tend to dominate their environment. The answer to the problem comes in the form of magnificent, elevating cabinets which will definitely enhance rather than detract from your living space. The cabinets are available in traditional mahogany and yew as well as the latest contemporary natural oak. Your DVD player and VCR are stowed beneath the television and there is ample storage for DVDs and cassettes – and all hidden away behind the elegant veneered doors. The television itself is raised up by an ingenious, virtually silent mechanism operated by remote control. Mountie in the county focuses on safe option

■ BY ED HILL

A TOP Mountie came to Kent this week to share the secret of how they always get their man.

Superintendent Ward Clapham said getting communities to embrace policing was the key to their success in making cities safe.

The senior Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer was the guest speaker at a community safety conference at Ashford International Hotel on Friday.

He told representatives from Kent police, Kent Fire and Rescue Service, Kent County Council and several other councils from across the county about the Mounties' philosophy in reducing crime.

Supt Clapham is the leader of the third largest force in Canada, which is based in Richmond, British Columbia.

Richmond is on one of the islands that make up part of the Greater Vancouver Regional District.

Mike Hill, KCC's community services chief, said: "This is an annual event that we put on in conjunction with the Kent police authority.

"Supt Clapham is recognised across the world as a specialist in this area. We were very interested in hearing what he had to tell us.

"He is very active in implementing the philosophy behind community policing at all levels. This is something they take very seriously in Canada."

The superintendent's area of E division is densely populated by Canadian standards.

The city has been subject to a large amount of immigration since the 1990s, and 50 per cent of its population come from an Asian background. The city has been recognised as one of the safest in Canada.

Mr Hill said: "We are very concerned with this area.

FEEL THE FORCE: Superintendent Ward Clapham of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police came to Kent to share his experiences

"The way forward is for communities to get involved in their own policing. It is up to all of us to help the police wherever we can. That was the theme of the conference.

"We want to find ways that all community organisations can work together, which includes the police, local councils, fire and rescue services and other groups."

Supt Clapham said: "I have been with the mounted police for 27 years. I am sure we can learn a lot from each other.

"For example, here in the UK you have much tougher legislation, allowing you to deal with high-risk offenders that I think we could adopt back home."

As part of his visit, Supt Clapham accompanied police community support officers and community wardens on their rounds in Meopham, near Gravesend.

He said: "The role of PCSOs and community wardens is something I am really keen to learn more about. We do not have anything like them in Canada.

"I think that there are times when it is not necessary to have a fully qualified officer dealing with problems. These people can engage more quickly with the people in their community."

The community safety unit in Ashford has been recognised as a service that could suffer cuts because of recent budget constraints on local councils from central government.

The sex criminals 'still a danger to our children'

KENT has the sixth highest number of sex offenders in the UK – according to figures published this week.

The county has a total of 49 people who have committed a serious sex offence such as rape or assault on a child.

All are classified as Level Three offenders – which means they have served a prison sentence but can never be considered safe.

They are mainly housed in hostels and their identities concealed.

The greatest number, 158, are resident in the Greater Manchester area.

Michele Elliott, director of children's charity Kidscape, said: "Level Three offenders in particular will continue to be a danger to children – and I bet none of the Government ministers or people working in this field have these offenders living next door to them."

Nationally, 1,201 offenders are housed. All are meant to be under the scrutiny of multi-agency public protection arrangements and social workers.

Kent has a better record when it comes to knife crime, ranking 15th in a nationwide survey of crime statistics.

Figures show that during April, May and June this year, 79 offences were reported in the county, whereas in London 1,580 knife crimes were recorded.

Gang culture put in the spotlight of police study

A STUDY into why young people choose to join gangs will be carried out by Kent police.

The online survey will be launched this month and look into lifestyle choices made by teenagers, as well as focus on their attitudes to peer pressure and social issues.

Police officers will also visit schools and talk to young people to raise awareness.

Three main types of groups are being studied – delinquent groups, organised gangs, and organised criminal networks.

Assistant Chief Constable Adrian Lepard said: "We need to understand this phenomenon, which is problematic in other areas of the country.

"By carrying out this research, we can take measures to try to prevent this problem appearing in Kent."

Hold your fire, new PS3 game has been delayed

THE long-awaited next instalment in the groundbreaking Metal Gear Solid series has been postponed again.

Metal Gear Solid 4: Guns of the Patriots was due to be released at the beginning of April 2008 as a PS3 exclusive but has been delayed until June.

The game's publisher Konami said: "We decided to delay the title's release to make further improvements to the quality of the game and provide even greater enjoyment for more customers worldwide."

"Konami will make Metal Gear Solid 4 meet everyone's expectations."

Gene Hunt policing is not done by the book

FANS of Life on Mars can enjoy the wit and wisdom of DCI Gene Hunt at Christmas with a handy police manual.

The Rules of Modern Policing – 1973 Edition is an essential guide of the long-lost arts of how to hit suspects so you don't leave a mark and how to drive a Cortina through a pile of cardboard boxes.

The book, which is expected to become this year's Christmas best-seller, is published by Bantam Press and available at all good book shops.

Extra support is more than a half-measure

THERE are 116 million unworn bras in the UK's underwear drawers, according to research by Playtex.

The lingerie company claims that, if laid end to end, they would stretch around the world twice. One of the main reasons for bras being discarded is a poor fit, with a fifth of women guessing at their size. In response to this, Playtex has launched My Size, a range of bras available in half-sizes from A to D.

DEAD: Robert Haines was shot during New Romney raidPRISON: Dean Jenkins was jailed for 17 yearsPRISON: Ben Grehan was jailed for 12 yearsPRISON: David Jenkins was jailed for 10 years

Three jail sentences and a funeral for 'ruthless' gang

THE three robbers who saw the fourth member of their gang shot dead by police have all been handed hefty jail sentences for a series of raids on security vans.

They were arrested almost exactly a year ago after they were caught by waiting armed officers in New Romney High Street.

Bob Haines, 41, a bouncer from Challock, opened fire with his sawn-off shotgun and he was immediately brought down by a police marksman.

The other three were arrested and quickly linked to a series of raids across the county.

All of the raids were carried out by ambushing security vans delivering large quantities of cash to building societies in Strood, Paddock Wood, Birchington, New Romney and Herne Bay.

In total, the robberies netted almost £340,000.

On Friday, David Jenkins, 61, a maintenance manager from Ashford, was found not guilty of the firearms offence but guilty of robbery and he was sentenced to 10 years.

Balaclava

His accomplices, who had already admitted conspiracy to commit armed robbery, were jailed as well.

Dean Jenkins, 40, a company director from Rainham, was sentenced to 17 years, and Ben Grehan, 22, a scaffolder from south London, to 12 years.

Each robbery was committed at night and at the moment when the last cash was being delivered.

In every case a man appeared wearing a balaclava and dark clothes and carrying a sawn-off shotgun which he used to threaten guards and order them to hand over cash.

Judge Philip Statman said the robberies were "ruthless" and commended both Kent police and members of the Metropolitan Police Flying Squad for their part in bringing the offenders to justice.

Detective Chief Inspector Tim Smith, who led the investigation, said: "The incidents involved innocent people being threatened and in some cases violence was used against them, resulting in, without a doubt, them being in fear of their lives.

"This disregard for others and the seriousness of the crime has been reflected by the sentences imposed.

"We have worked together with the Crown Prosecution Service to take these dangerous men off the streets of Kent. Kent police will deal with armed robberies robustly and thoroughly, and offenders will be brought before the courts."

Detective Chief Inspector Steve Richardson from the Flying Squad added: "These three men played significant roles in a series of violent armed robberies, where guns were used to intimidate guards.

"The robbery of cash in transit companies is not a victimless crime, with the delivery guards often suffering physically and physiologically.

"The Flying Squad will continue to work with the industry and other forces to prevent and apprehend robbers of this nature."

Let's talk about sex (and relationships)

SEX education for young people should focus more on relationships and emotions than it does, according to a survey.

A total of 4,000 people aged 15 to 20 were quizzed by the University of Kent on what matters to them when it comes to learning about personal issues.

Author Jenny Billings said education was failing teenagers because it was not relevant to their needs.

"They know the physical side – they know how to put the condom on the banana in the classroom setting," she said.

"But they don't know about negotiating the sexual relationship."

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Dover...

If this port is the gateway to Britain, where is the welcome?

WHY is every port of entry into this country such a mess?

As a proud resident of Dover I would like my town to be an advertisement for the UK and somewhere which would make people excited to arrive at.

After all – what more evocative symbol of our nation is there than the White Cliffs of Dover?

In the past they were a sign of arriving home from wars, hazardous voyages of discovery or long postings overseas. And they are still featured on postcards, photographic books and many other collections which are meant to show “Englishness”.

Then there is the castle perched on top of the cliffs – another staunch symbol of this country's resilience.

So an approach by boat into Dover Harbour is extremely memorable. But what an anticlimax when a visitor arrives.

No problems at the docks – passengers can disembark quickly and there are no delays at passport control (usually). But what about when a visitor gets outside?

Unless they are part of an organised tour group, there is absolutely no clue as to how to get anywhere.

Courtesy buses run to the station, but from where? The taxi rank is hidden behind a row of skips. And a walk is pretty much out of the question carrying bags and luggage.

But say our visitor does manage to get into the heart of the town. What then awaits them?

Well, mainly building societies, charity shops and estate agents. All of which are among the most useless establishments for tourists.

If Dover is the gateway to Britain, where is the welcome?

Where are the prestige stores? Of course there is the De Bradelei wharf – but that's just as difficult to find as the taxis.

It is the town centre which needs attention. A few designer shops, some heritage themed stores, a good bookshop or two, a top music retailer and maybe some fashion stores.

All of which might encourage people to linger longer in the town rather than rushing off to Canterbury, London or further afield. Dover has its attraction – but the town centre is so unwelcoming it is no surprise many visitors head straight to the railway station.

So people don't spend their euros, dollars or whatever else they might carry in our town.

It seems to be a bit of a national malaise. No entry port to the UK is ever very pleasant.

The Heathrow 'Welcome to Britain' kiosk is always closed – the route in via the Picadilly Line is slow and the above ground scenery is ugly, while the M4 is frequently gridlocked.

The express train is okay – but it still arrives at an inconvenient north London terminus.

Gatwick is better – but there are plans to get rid of the fast rail link which serves Victoria.

As for ports such as Hull, Liverpool, Harwich, as one might say, “don't even go there”.

But that is no excuse – with all the natural and historical advantages Dover enjoys it shouldn't just throw away a potential economic goldmine by having a town centre which seems as though it doesn't care.

Green Party warns of commuter misery

GREEN PARTY campaigners say they are concerned at delays in plans to improve commuter railway services – claiming that travellers face a decade of rail misery.

New carriages have been promised by rail companies and the infrastructure is set for improvement under a Government initiative to promote rail travel.

The move is part of an overall environmental strategy aimed at cutting down on carbon emissions.

But the latest official estimates say the Crossrail scheme – which will connect parts of London to the main regional network – will not be operational until 2017.

Thameslink services, which will link Kent's lines to the rest of the UK network, are also behind schedule and will not be ready until 2015, it is feared.

Rail bosses say the delays are necessary to avoid problems when the lines do become operational.

But Dr Hazel Dawe, of Kent Green Party, said the decisions should have been taken far earlier to bring services on line much more quickly.

She said: "Rising rail use and insufficient seats in the rush hour means Kent's rail commuters face a working decade of ever more unpleasant rail journey experiences."

"Given climate change and the imminent peaking of global oil supplies, Government investment in public transport alternatives to the private car should have occurred years ago."

Parents steer children into wrong exams

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

PUSHY parents suffering from 'academic snobbery' are leading thousands of children each year down the wrong educational path, according to research from industry expert group Edge.

The group's in-depth study found more than half of parents in Kent blindly nudge their youngsters towards taking A-levels and going on to university, despite knowing nothing about many of the other options available.

The Parents Panel – made up of more than 5,000 parents with children aged between 11 and 16 – uncovered a host of ill-informed traditional viewpoints, ingrained prejudices and much more besides.

Almost half of those questioned said they would urge their child to take A-levels over equivalents such as BTEC qualifications, which only 18 per cent would consider at all.

Almost twice as many people – 35 per cent – went so far as to say that vocational courses, such as plumbing, motor mechanics and midwifery, were only for pupils who failed to shine in core subjects at school.

These out-of-date beliefs have had a devastating effect on the choices made by school-leavers.

More than one in five teenagers and young professionals told the group they had taken a wrong turn in their education and more than a third of those questioned laid the blame for that squarely at their parents' door.

Almost 40 per cent of youngsters said they would take A-levels partly because their parents wanted them to go to university.

CHOICES: There are other options than just A-levels

Garry Hawkes, chairman of Edge, said he wanted to use the Parents Panel findings to tackle the traditional bias against vocational qualifications, which currently results in too many people evaluating personal success by academic achievements.

This, he said, contributed to the feeling of 18 per cent of parents stating they would be disappointed if their child ended up in a practical career.

Mr Hawkes said: "We've been concerned for some time at how academic snobbery is influencing the lives of young people and our research shows the unfortunate truth that it has resulted in thousands of young people being directed down the wrong route every year, and therefore being turned off learning."

"Parents naturally want to do what's best for their child, but by their own admission they aren't armed with all the facts about the learning options available and this is costing some young people dearly. We're challenging all parents to stop thinking of academic qualifications as the only route to success."

Edge has launched a scheme called Another Way Forward for parents to consider other options – visit www.edge.co.uk for details.

Shock jocks at Invicta tell their deepest secrets

■ BY GARY WRIGHT

PSST! Want to hear a secret? Want to see your favourite radio presenters confess all?

Then make sure you tune in to top Kent commercial radio station Invicta FM next week – and then log on to our free broadband online TV channel www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Bosses at the top station have ordered a host of its biggest names to confess their deepest secrets on camera in one of the most revealing stunts the station has ever staged.

And best of all, you can watch the likes of breakfast show king and queen James Heming and Ali Wheeler spill the beans on our website.

An insider at the hits-heavy radio station revealed: "In many cases listeners to the DJs' shows will, for the first time, be able to see the presenters and look into their eyes as they reveal some of their worst moments."

Shocking

"This is going to be surprising, embarrassing and shocking. It's a brilliant idea. The presenters have to tell fans something about themselves that they could never find out any other way. And the best part about it all is that it is all helping raise money for disadvantaged children."

Every confession will be broadcast on Yourkenttv.co.uk from next Monday. KOS Media, publishers of this newspaper and broadcasters of Yourkenttv – will give £1 to the Help a Kent Child for every person that registers that week.

Registration is completely free and not only will members be able to upload their own video clips, they will also receive e-editions of our newspapers completely free.

The station has adopted the charity which raises funds to help disadvantaged young people to fulfil dreams and ambitions they would never have thought possible.

There are many children in Kent who experience the negative effects of poverty, abuse, neglect, homelessness, violence, crime, illness and disability; who are carers for their own parents or who are indirect victims of domestic violence or suffer daily pain due to illness.

In this world of glamour and gain, these are the children Invicta FM and KOS Media want to help.

Nationwide battle to save post offices

MEDWAY council bosses were yesterday expected to kick-start a national campaign to save the country's post offices.

It is thought cabinet members would back plans to form an all-party delegation charged with spurring the Local Government Association to fight Royal Mail's proposed cutbacks.

More than 2,500 branches across the UK – including 58 in Kent – risk being axed in the first wave of savings as the postal service looks to turn its financial fortunes around.

The Medway council leader has already voiced his concerns over the proposals, writing to Royal Mail last month to register his objection.

Cllr Rodney Chambers wrote: "The proposals are particularly ill-thought given that Medway's population is set to grow by 50,000 during the next 10 years, with a resultant requirement for greater access to post office services, not less."

The Royal Mail's six week consultation period on their proposals ends on Monday.

Breakfast show presenters James and Ali were the first to be caught by our camera crew. Ali said: "I took a deep breath and just let it all come out."

Next the camera team cornered daytime presenter Claire Lawson, who admitted her worst moment.

Claire, who is on air every weekday between 10am and 2pm, said: "It was a shock to be confronted, but I realised I had no choice. I'm not sure what the listeners will make of it!"

Afternoon show presenter Andy Walker initially refused to reveal anything more about himself, but as station bosses put their foot down the truth finally came out.

"I just hope my mum doesn't see it," he said.

Drivetime presenter Neil Kefford was prepared and he just told the truth.

"There was no other way," he said.

Evening presenter Stephen Sullivan almost escaped, but no-one could be left out and he too was forced to reveal all.

So get ready for a week of surprises and a few red faces too – and for once you'll be able to see the fear in their eyes!

• Log on from Monday at www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

From a life-long love of silent movies, Paul Merton is now sharing his passion of early comedy in a compelling new live show

Clowning around

PAUL MERTON'S SILENT CLOWNS

Friday, November 16
Assembly Hall Theatre,
Tunbridge Wells

■ BY JAMES RAMPTON

SILENCE is golden, according to Paul Merton, and he wants to share his love of mute clowns with audiences in Kent.

After 17 years as a team captain on the hugely popular panel show Have I Got News For You, Merton has mastered the art of comic chat. But what first ignited his love of comedy?

Merton, 50, gives an instant reply; silent movies.

"It all goes back to when I was 14," recalls the comic. "I went to the local cinema to see The General, Buster Keaton's classic 1927 silent film, which was accompanied by a live piano player. Even though the movie was at that point 50 years old, I was amazed by the power it still possessed. 'Wow,' I thought, 'how on earth did he do that?' I came out of the cinema walking on air."

And so a lifelong love affair with silent movies was born.

That relationship has now come to fruition with Paul Merton's Silent Clowns, a compelling new live show, during which Merton, an acknowledged expert, will screen extracts from the best silent comedians in some of their funniest films.

In the second half of the show, Paul will introduce a screening of Harold Lloyd's deathless silent masterpiece, Safety Last!. The film delivers a marvellously engaging combination of thrills and laughs which is as potent today as it was when the movie was first released in 1923. Perhaps the most stunning aspect of the movie is that it contains not a single special effect.

The screening of Safety Last! will be accompanied by pianist Neil Brand, who has gained worldwide renown over the past 25 years for his dazzling, virtuoso performances at silent movies at the NFT and at film festivals across the globe.

Audiences today are astonished by the bravery of the silent movie stars who did all their own stunts. The era was a health and safety nightmare and Merton is certain the likes of Keaton and Lloyd would not be allowed to make films today.

"But that only adds to their brilliance," he insists. "Look at that most famous stunt in Steamboat Bill Jr, where the house falls on Keaton and he is saved by standing in the space left by the window. He was unbelievably brave."

Merton's love of silent movies has in fact already manifested itself in his own wordless film, The Suicidal Dog, and he would love to direct again.

"I think about making films all the time," he concludes. "It's what I'd love to do above all else, but at the moment I'm too busy. However, if everything else stopped, then I could really concentrate on directing a movie. I really appreciate the success I've had, but I'd swap it all if I could direct one really good, intelligent movie that didn't treat its audience like morons and still worked in twenty years time."

Paul Merton's Silent Clowns starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14.50. To book, call 01892 530613/532072 or visit the website at www.assemblyhall-theatre.co.uk.

VENTURE to the dark side of the moon when the music of Pink Floyd comes to Tenterden.

Just Floyd, one of the best tributes to the legendary band, will be delighting fans of the original with their take on the classic tunes. This will be the band's third visit to the Sinden Theatre, where previous performances have proved a hit.

The Maidstone-based, five-piece group travels across the UK to perform and has been described by reviewers as "spot on". Formed in 2004, the band is made up of individual members who have been playing Floyd tracks for years.

The members of Just Floyd prefer to emulate their heroes by concentrating on the sounds and atmosphere, rather than dressing up. The two-hour set will include favourites such as Dark Side Of The Moon, Wish You Were Here and The Wall, though there is not a definitive set list. Songs tend to be varied, particularly on a return visit to a venue.

Capturing little nuances that some tribute acts tend to forget, the band should please even the most die-hard Pink Floyd fan.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12. To book, call 01580 763826 or visit the website at www.sindentheatre.biz.

GREAT voices are cheaper by the dozen when you buy a ticket to see The Twelve Irish Tenors.

With their good looks, Celtic charm and magnificent voices, the group took Europe and America by storm last year and now they are ready to impress the music lovers of Folkestone.

Any of the individual singers could hold their own on any concert stage, but the effect of all 12 performing together is described as breathtaking. Their repertoire includes classical and contemporary favourites, such as You Raise Me Up, That's Life, Nessun Dorma, Danny Boy and O Sole Mio.

The programme also includes special tributes to The Beatles and Barry Manilow, which means there will be a wide range of music to please most audiences. From opera to pop, from jazz to classical, the mix of great songs should result in a spine-tingling show.

Tickets for the performance, which starts at 7.30pm, cost £18.50/£16.50, concessions available. To book, call the box office on 0870 4000 890 or visit the website at www.leascliffhall.co.uk.

CATHERINE CRAIG AND BRIAN WILLOUGHBY

Friday, November 23
Astor Theatre Arts Centre, Deal

AMERICAN singer/songwriter Cathryn Craig joins acclaimed British guitarist Brian Willoughby for an evening of songs about life.

The duo are touring the country and delighting live audiences with their unique blend of intricately crafted songs and amusing anecdotes. Craig's remarkable voice is showcased perfectly alongside Willoughby's outstanding guitar skills.

Craig has sung with many great acts including The Righteous Brothers, Shel Silverstein and Jorma Kaukonen, while Willoughby has played the likes of Roger Whittaker, Joe Brown and Monty Python. He was also lead guitarist with Strawbs for 25 years. Both have also worked with international folk star Nanci Griffith.

Creating an intimate atmosphere with songs about life experience, the pair's musical partnership continues to amaze audiences. Willoughby's playing has been described in the music press as "inspirational stuff indeed".

They have released an album together, I Will, and their Alice's Song was released as a single by Strawbs, in aid of The National Autistic Society's Year of Awareness.

Tickets for the gig, which starts at 8pm, cost £5 in advance or £7.50 on the door. To book, call the box office on 01304 381134 or visit the website www.astortheatre.co.uk for more booking information.

TALK TIME

RICHARD LAWRENCE

The Dover Pride programme manager loves our fine views to (and from) France, as well as the local football club

Tell us a bit about yourself

My name is Richard Lawrence and I am programme manager for Dover Pride. I grew up in Dover, and with my local background together with academic and career experience, have developed a passion to succeed in regenerating my home town. I am married with a recently-born son and enjoy travelling, listening to and writing music, playing football and gardening.

What is your favourite thing about Dover?

For me, there are two things. I love Dover's setting, nestled beneath the Langdon Cliffs and Western Heights, overlooking the Channel with fine views to France. There is the imposing castle, surely one of England's finest; forgotten treasures such as the Drop Redoubt; a fantastic seafront; and surely one of the most impressive entrances when arriving from France. I think a lot of people do not realise just how good a setting Dover has. My other favourite thing about Dover is Dover Athletic Football Club, whom I have been supporting for many years.

Do you think the regeneration scheme will make people more positive about Dover?

Yes, absolutely. Never before in Dover has there been total commitment from key agencies such as Dover District Council, Kent County Council, the South East Development Agency, English Partnerships (The National Regeneration Agency) and Dover Harbour Board to collectively, through the Dover Pride partnership, transform the aspirations of the town. There are large projects that will change the way people feel about Dover. It is estimated that the current projects will provide about £500 million of investment.

YOUR LETTERS

I'm on fire over lack of decision

Never have I written a letter with such a feeling of anger, frustration and absolute shame as I write now about how Shepway District Council behaved last week.

On a motion to fight to retain the firefighting service for Folkestone and the whole of Shepway, the Conservatives played party politics and scuppered the full council from making a recommendation to the Fire Authority not to cut fire services in Folkestone.

District councillors are voted into office by the council tax payers of this area so that they represent the feelings and wishes of voters and safeguard their wellbeing.

As discussed through the debate, this was one of the most powerful motions put before this council as it affected the safety of every resident within Shepway in their own homes.

The fire authority wants to cut one fully-manned fire engine in the form of a water pump and a turntable extendable ladder, which means nobody above the fourth floor can be reached until a ladder arrives from outside our area, which could be between 20 and 50 minutes away.

How dare the Conservatives mess around with party politics, when something so important as community safety is at stake?

How dare they not make a stand and not make a decision? How dare they defer such a decision to a committee? Where are the Conservative councillors who are prepared to make decisions? Where are these supposed leaders who hide behind each other?

Tell us more about ghostly goings-on

I was interested to read the Ghostbuster story in last week's paper - very appropriate for Halloween.

I have always had an interest in the supernatural and recently read some accounts of ghosts at Dover Castle.

With its long history, this is hardly surprising - maybe it is something that could be investigated further.

Youngsters were a real treat for me

May I say via Yourshepway a big thank you to the children who came to my door asking for trick or treats last week.

Not only were their costumes very well made, but they were very polite and their parents were in the background keeping a close eye on them.

These children were under 10 and so were satisfied with a few sweets and an apple each.

The custom of knocking on doors at this time of year has been attacked - but for children of this age I find it harmless.

Wow! Look at me now!

I dropped 3 dress sizes in just 6 weeks.

I liked all the wrong foods especially crisps and nuts, and my weight kept creeping up and up. I wasn't happy being a size 18 but crash dieting only made me put on more weight.

I had tried a slimming club, but didn't like the group element and their food plans didn't fit in with my social life.

When SureSlim got the results of my blood test, it confirmed that I had high levels of glucose in my system, which made me more hungry than I should have been, subsequently I was over-eating. SureSlim then drew up a food plan based on what would work for me. The first week I struggled, wondering how I would cope without milk in my tea, but by week two I wasn't even thinking about it.

I've not just lost the weight either - I've also lost the over-whelming feeling of tiredness that I used to have.

I was comfort eating as I was stressed in my job and the weight just crept up. That's when I realised I had to do something. Once I started on the plan to my amazement I lost 10 pounds in the first 10 days!

And now I've reached my goal weight in I can happily wear my little blue dress!

Walter's story is truly inspirational

The story in last week's paper of Walter Tull the footballer was an interesting read and it certainly must have taken a very special man to achieve success in both sport and the army at a time when race relations were not as good as they are now.

Full marks to Folkestone Library for highlighting his life story, which should surely soon be the subject of a TV documentary.

Our grotty harbour needs some style

If Folkestone is serious about becoming a stylish seaside resort as everyone seems to want it to become, there is one major problem which needs to be addressed.

Namely, those awful-looking scruffy pubs around the harbour, the terrible nightspots nearby and the constant fights which break out every weekend.

A friend who came down to the town from London recently compared the area to the Wild West.

It is a blot on the landscape and all the future plans stated for the town's development.

Old can be just as bad as the young

The Yourdover blogger last week made a very good point about mobility scooters.

They are a proper menace on the streets and the drivers seem to have no thought for anyone else, especially pedestrians.

Young people are frequently criticised for selfishness – but older people can demonstrate the same level of lack of concern as anyone else.

Stream of rubbish is seemingly endless

Above is a photo of the scene that greeted me again one morning last week. I say 'again' because it is a daily occurrence in or near the Barrow Pit car park off Kingsdown Road in Walmer.

The refuse, as you can see, is household refuse and is randomly dumped during the day. Mostly it is cleared up by the SITA refuse collector on his early morning visit, but frequently we have to clear it up ourselves, and quite frankly I am getting fed up with doing so.

Pete Legg
Deal

If we and the SITA man did not do it, I can assure you the Barrow Pit car park area would look like a first-class rubbish dump. I also have photos which I took today of an overflowing bin on the promenade, once again full of household waste.

If we are getting this amount of dumping while we have a weekly refuse collection, then just think what it will be like if the services are reduced to two-weekly.

Also regarding fly-tipping, I have noticed a marked increase in dumping in the lay-bys off Reach Road toward Dover in the last three months, particularly in near Bleriot Memorial. What is going on?

Stand up against the urban menace

In recent weeks reading Yourdover and Yourshepway, I have noticed a number of stories concerning that urban menace, 'white van man'.

While not one to generalise, I would like to say that the driving skills exhibited by those behind the wheel of a white van usually do leave a lot to be desired.

So – to the white van driver who threw a cup out of the window – shame on you.

But to the man who confronted a white van driver and appeared in court for assault after he feared for his life in a traffic accident – well done!

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

IF you are given a choice between working for a flat salary and earning a commission, go for the commission-based deal. Using your sex appeal to change someone's mind could ultimately tarnish your reputation. A sudden raise or bonus sweetens your bank account. This week is wonderful for starting a new job or going on interviews.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

A LOVE interest's compliments make you feel irresistible. It will be easy to work your charm on everyone you meet. Resist the urge to take advantage of someone who wants to please you. Think twice before making a move unless you intend to pursue a serious romance. A new partnership is possible, but it needs to begin on the right foot.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

WORKING behind the scenes gives you a renewed sense of confidence. Resist the urge to buy a child or lover's affection, or they will feel manipulated. An exciting romantic rendezvous could satisfy an amorous urge. Don't be afraid to explore your deepest desires. Taking a class gives you the intellectual stimulation you crave.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

THE chance to go on a trip or take a class could present itself quite suddenly - be prepared to act like lightning. Putting unusual touches on a creative project will prove rewarding. You'll have a welcome chance to pursue private pleasures for the next month, take full advantage of this blissful trend. Adopting a new look is will be good.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Be aggressive about pursuing your creative vision, people will defer to you based on your experience. Your unusual style sets you apart from the crowd and opens doors. If you feel as though your employer isn't paying you enough, negotiate for better perks. Getting your boss to pay for advanced training is a distinct possibility.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

GO ahead and make an investment in your health. If your relatives don't approve of your partner, be prepared to defend your other half or cracks could start to appear in the foundation of your relationship. An exciting award, promotion, or raise could come your way. It's a pleasure to go into work this week.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

Friends encourage you to put your skills to good use. Resist the urge to pressure a relative into an arrangement that makes them uncomfortable. It's better to preserve your relationship than get your way. You could be irresistibly drawn to a love interest that isn't your usual type. If you already have a partner, encourage them to take a bold risk.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

A CLANDESTINE encounter adds spice to your life. Don't try to charm your way out of a problem with your employer. It's best to own up and accept the consequences of a mistake. Female friends will play an increasingly important role over the next month. Look to these ladies for support with a self improvement programme.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU have the courage to break through limitations that were placed on you during childhood. Now you're older, you can spend time on the things you enjoy. Mixing business with pleasure may not be possible, as a colleague with could lord it over everyone else. An exciting new phase of your love life makes difficulties at work more bearable.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

YOUR attractive allure is evident to everyone, allowing you to wrap someone special around your little finger. If you're already in a relationship, take this opportunity to wine and dine your amour. A little romance goes a long way. Be honest with a colleague who is performing under par. A new romance, pregnancy, or creative project could take root.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

YOUR ability to spin straw into gold is a major asset in the workforce. Use a recent success to ask for a raise, promotion, or corner office. An unusual job assignment could put more money in your pocket. Your charm, wit, and sophistication will be at an all time high for the next month; use these gifts to advance your agenda.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

PURSuing an intimate relationship pays off handsomely. Don't be afraid to play the aggressor. It feels good to go after what you want. An exciting piece of news prompts you to pursue a cherished dream. Work assumes a more glamorous tone over the next month. A group of intensely creative people could make their way into your life.

African bike adventure goes a long way down

■ BY ANDY WELCH

EVEN though Ewan McGregor and Charley Boorman have just ridden from the tip of Scotland to the southern-most point of Africa across some of the most hazardous terrain on the planet, they can't afford to take time off to relax.

"It's been extremely busy since we got back," says Ewan. "There's an awful lot of stuff you have to deal with after three months away. And we could have gone on longer. When we got to Cape Town at the end of the trip there was a terrible temptation to just turn around and go back up. I didn't want to stop."

The draw of their families, which both admit to missing horrendously, was enough to see that they returned, but not before a quick trip to Kenya with their wives and children to revisit a few of their favourite spots.

The duo completed their first mammoth trip around three years ago, and their travels could be seen in Long Way Round, their first series for the BBC. On their motorcycles, and followed by a small support crew, Ewan and Charley rode from London to New York, but as the title of their escapade suggests, they didn't merely cross the Atlantic to get to the Big Apple. Instead, they rode through France, Belgium, Germany, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Ukraine, Russia, Kazakhstan, Mongolia and Canada before finally reaching their destination.

It was a gruelling trip, but not tough enough to put them off trying something else. The actors, who became best friends after meeting on the set of 1997 film The Serpent's Kiss, originally mentioned the possibility of another journey on Jonathan Ross's chat show some time ago, but it only came to fruition this year. And two shows into the six-part series – Long Way Down – viewers are hooked again.

ON YER BIKE: Charley Boorman and Ewan McGregor rode from Scotland to the southern tip of Africa

"The preparations were much smoother this time," says Ewan, looking nothing like a film star in workman's boots, jeans and a fleece jacket. "We knew what we wanted to take and what we didn't want to take, and we knew we wanted to go on the BMW bikes."

If preparations were smoother, the trip was more difficult than their previous effort which introduced thousands to adventure biking.

"It was definitely different," ponders Ewan. "Because we'd done Long Way Round, we were all looking for unique things and sometimes that was conflicting. It caused some moments that weren't as harmonious as others. That's a nice way of putting it, isn't it?" he beams with a trademark smile.

"I think if you spend that much time together," adds Charley, "you know, you're bound to have the odd bicker. You'd be spectacularly odd if you didn't. But we'd get time on our own when we were riding."

The journey this time around had Ewan and Charley riding down through the UK, across France and through the Alps into Italy. From there, they crossed to Tunisia and began the mammoth African leg of their journey which would have them visiting Libya, Egypt, Sudan, Ethiopia, Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda, Tanzania, Malawi, Zambia, Namibia and Botswana, before finally making their way to Cape Agulhas, the southern-most point of the continent. So, what did Africa have in store?

"People would hear we were going there and say 'Of course, you'll be macheted'. I'd ask whereabouts, and they'd say, 'Everywhere'," laughs Ewan.

Many readers may already know a fair bit about Charley and Ewan's trip thanks to the website which they regularly contributed to using the latest satellite technology.

"Next time, if there is a next time," adds Charley quickly, considering the implications of what he's just said. "If there were enough people saying 'You should go and do this', we could go off and do it."

Next time?

"We've only just got back!" he cries!

ON GENERAL RELEASE

DEATH AT A FUNERAL (15)

A dignified send-off for a loved one erupts into chaos when romance, jealousy, in-laws, secrets and a spot of blackmail collide at the graveside – and a divided family is finally forced to come to terms with each other's bad behaviour. The British cast stars Matthew MacFadyen, Rupert Graves, Jane Asher, Daisy Donovan and Ewen Bremner.

30 DAYS OF NIGHT (15)

In the sleepy and secluded town of Barrow, Alaska, the citizens are preparing for the annual coming of the dark, when the sun will set for more than 30 consecutive days and nights. But this year the dark will bring something else. From across the frosted wasteland, a horrifying evil descends upon Barrow, mercilessly besieging its terrified residents.

THE LOOKOUT (15)

Chris (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) is a once-promising high school athlete whose life is turned upside down following a tragic accident. As he tries to maintain a normal life, he takes a job as a janitor at a bank, where he finds himself caught up in a planned heist.

Cate's age of confrontation

■ BY SHEREEN LOW

WITH her regal stature and ethereal beauty, Cate Blanchett was born to play a queen.

The Australian actress has reprised her award-winning role as Queen Elizabeth I in Elizabeth: The Golden Age almost 10 years since her high-profile debut in Elizabeth.

Dressed in a black sequinned top and wide-legged black trousers, Cate reveals why it has taken so long for the film to be made.

"The structure to this film is quite different," she says, "I wasn't ready for a long time, but they came back with a really interesting script, at the centre of which was a woman who was coming to terms with the fact she was ageing. This is unlike the last time where there was a boy meets girl story and a love triangle.

"I needed to get older, otherwise there's no real story. While the first film was about denial – a woman denying herself in order to rule – this was more about acceptance, and a woman who was having to confront the fact that she was ageing and what that meant.

"It's pertinent to both women and men, that whole fear of ageing which was a huge issue for Elizabeth."

Cate, who was also crowned elf queen Galadriel in the Lord Of The Rings trilogy, has a great admiration for the first Queen Elizabeth.

She says: "I find her incredibly inspiring. She had an amazing intellect and an ability to work her way through uncharted waters while negotiating a minefield of political associations and still keeping everything afloat.

"She was also an incredible patron of the arts, which I find utterly inspiring. The poetry of the time, the music, the literature, the birth of English theatre, Shakespeare is all there in a large part, I think, due to her patronage."

yourkenttv.co.uk

She adds, more poignantly: "When making the film we thought a lot about Diana, Princess of Wales.

"Although we don't know how much is propaganda, one of the things that is repeatedly written about Elizabeth is that she often went out with very little guard and walked around and shook people's hands. So she was able to somehow be untouchable and remote, and also incredibly accessible.

"We were reminded of Diana in terms capturing the public's imaginations and that public feeling that they could connect."

Cate, a mother-of-two, who has been married to Australian playwright and screenwriter Andrew Upton for almost 10 years, said playing the role made her grateful for her own family life and relationships.

MAJESTIC: Cate Blanchett's graceful beauty and imposing stature makes her perfect for the role of a queen

"I wouldn't like to be as isolated as she was. I'm lucky I've got a private life that happily and richly balances my work life."

The actress prefers to stay out of the spotlight so she can bring up her two sons – six-year-old Dashiell and three-year-old Roman.

But Cate, who is also starring in the fourth installment of the Indiana Jones franchise – Indiana Jones And The Kingdom Of The Crystal Skull – as well as playing a younger version of music icon Bob Dylan in I'm Not There, isn't sure about completing the Elizabeth trilogy.

"Who knows? We'll have to see how this one does, I think," she says.

Kent International Airport

Of cowboys and astronauts

BY EMMA ROWLEY

WHERE have all the cowboys gone? Almost certainly to Texas, that most American of states, where even city-dwellers go about hatted and booted – as though they are more likely to ride a horse than a pick-up truck.

When you arrive on George Bush's home patch, you quickly find that the state's lone star flag is as common a sight as the stars and stripes, fluttering from anywhere possible.

To understand where the famous Texan pride comes from, a visit to The Alamo in San Antonio is the obvious place to start. Texans take their history very seriously. It was here, at a former chapel, that a motley band of vastly outnumbered rebels fought to the death against the Mexican army to safeguard their independence.

Not all the stereotypes hold true, though. Forget the desert scenes from cowboy films – Texas is a surprisingly lush state, and its cities are spacious and green. In addition to its cowboy roots, modern Texas is rather proud to have a cultured side.

The McNay Art Museum in San Antonio is the former home of Marion Koogler McNay, who built up a fabulous collection of art. Her legacy is breathtaking: a Spanish-influenced mansion where each room is packed with Renoirs, Monets and Picassos.

CITY: The Texas skyline is strikingly different to the stereotypical image of George Bush's home state

Another San Antonio highlight is a boat ride through the city. The river is banked by bars and restaurants, many of which are happy to arrange a meal for you onboard your barge.

We were served a summery menu by Hotel Contessa and serenaded by a mariachi band. Indeed the Mexican influence on the city, as for much of Texas, is marked, noticeably in the food: delicious tacos, tortillas and burritos are served up in abundance. Throughout the state the food is plentiful, tasty and cheap – which may explain many Texans' waistlines.

From San Antonio we went to Austin, a relatively short drive, made worthwhile by stopping at the tiny outpost that is Luckenbach. It boasts a wooden cabin general store/post office, where musicians play in the back to passers-by. It's the only stop you need make to experience the best of rural Texas.

Houston could not be more different. Everything is bigger in Texas – and nowhere is that more evident than in this city, the focus of the Texan oil industry. According to one city-dweller, Houston sprawls across 70 miles: this is a city built for the car.

Houston also boasts a thriving museum district, ranging from the vast Houston Museum of Natural Science, which has its own butterfly house, to The Buffalo Soldiers National Museum, which uses actors to tell the history of the legendary all-black regiments, from their civil war beginnings to desegregation.

More recent history comes in the form of NASA's Johnson Space Center. For me, the highlight was stepping into the control centre that received the famous and chilling call: "Houston, we have a problem". It still houses the computers used to bring home the astronauts on the Apollo 13 mission. Looking at the clunky machines, it seems a miracle they ever made it into space, let alone came home again.

From ranch settlers to space explorers, it seems Texas still retains that old pioneering spirit.

Wind of change to regenerate town

THE early momentum achieved by the Dover Pride regeneration initiative has picked up significantly over the last 12 months, according to the Kent Property Market Report 2007 by Kent County Council, Cluttons and Locate in Kent.

The report states that several projects are off the ground, including phase two of the White Cliffs Business Park, the Sea Sports Centre and St James retail scheme, which is expected to start soon.

Further development opportunities are also under consideration, including the Dover Midtown area, the former Connaught Barracks and the £300 million expansion of the Western Docks.

The controversial Little Cheyne Court wind farm on Romney Marsh – to be the South East's largest onshore wind farm – was also highlighted in the report.

Project developer npower confirmed its plans to start construction in summer 2008, with power generation starting later in the year.

In Folkestone, the report says the county council is working to revitalise the Tontine Street approach to the harbour. This will involve a complete remodelling of the street, linking with the recently opened University Centre.

Are we taking any notice of HIPs?

ONLY 10 per cent of people read HIPs, according to research carried out by Spicerhaart's, Europe's largest independent estate agency.

Paul Broadhead, deputy director general at the Association of Home Information Pack Providers (AHIPP), said: "As far as AHIPP is concerned, it is too early to make any firm conclusions about the way consumers use HIPs as we are only half way through the rollout of HIPs into the market since August 1."

"Consumers are not not reading HIPs out of choice – they are simply not being advised that a HIP is available in a large number of cases."

"Buyers are not being given a HIP automatically – instead they are having to request it specifically from the estate agent, so this figure does not surprise me."

"We have just issued an updated version of our HIP handling guide, which states that once estate agents receive the HIP it should be made available to buyers immediately for their information."

Now's time to invest in the rental market

■ BY JENNY SANTOS

AT a time of uncertainty in the housing market, letting agents across Kent are reporting a shortage of rental properties.

The Association of Rental Lettings Agents (ARLA) has released a report stating that tenant demand now outstrips supply in all sectors of the rental market. ARLA says this is consistent with the traditional pattern of 'softening' house prices leading to a growing requirement for rental accommodation.

Bill Glanville, of Jon Youden & Son letting agents in Dover, said: "This time three months ago we had 30 properties empty, which was unprecedented, but since then business has turned around at an astonishing rate and now we are almost 100 per cent to capacity."

So, despite widespread speculation about a decline in the buy-to-let market, industry experts are advising potential investors that now is a good time to buy.

Property investment specialist Assetz sees the current climate as a good opportunity for investors.

Stuart Law, chief executive, said: "While the market has been subject to much speculation and turmoil over the last few months, there is significant evidence to suggest that for those taking a medium- to long-term perspective, now is an excellent time to invest in buy-to-let property."

According to ARLA's last quarterly figures, the average weekly rental income for the South East is £345 per week for houses and £215 per week for flats, putting rents at an all-time high. It is predicted that the growth in rents will continue.

Coupled with an increasing number of forced sellers discounting their property and bank base rates expected to fall, we could be approaching the most profitable rental income situation for years.

ARLA has just published its annual guide – The ARLA, CML Guide To Buy To Let – in association with the Council of Mortgage Lenders (CML).

Malcolm Harrison, ARLA spokesman, said the aim of the guide was to "clarify the role of investment in residential rental housing and counter any market misunderstandings".

For landlords and tenants, it covers the defini-

GUIDE: As demand outstrips supply, a new report says that this could be the ideal time to buy to let tion of buy-to-let, the opportunities and obligations that go with it, tenancy agreements, tenancy deposit protection, insurance, legal requirements and tax.

It is a useful resource for all those considering dipping a tentative toe into the rental property market.

The guide can be picked up at ARLA-registered letting agents and downloaded from www.arla.co.uk.

MOTORS NEWS

Big discount makes a massive deal on Micra

BAILEYS Nissan in Canterbury is highlighting an £800 discount for the revised 2008 model Micra hatchback until December 14.

The deal on the mid-level Acenta brings Bluetooth phone integration, drive computer, speed limit warning, air-conditioning, six-speaker CD system with MP3 jack socket, rear sliding seat, electric door mirrors and front windows.

With the discount, this cuts the price for this well-equipped model to just £7,995.

Baileys' dealer principal Brian Smith said: "The Nissan Micra offers incredible specification at amazing value."

Local reflection on record 'Landie' sales

LAND ROVER sales have hit all-time record levels globally and the local news is good too says Barretts Land Rover at Canterbury and Ashford.

Dealer principal Mark Nicholas said: "Our sales are up five to 10 per cent on 2006 according to model. The Discovery 3 is now our oldest car, but keeps winning awards, while demand for the Range Rover Sport and new Defender is strong. The latest Freelander is our best seller though – its predecessor was good, but the new car is a huge step forward."

Mazda6 is voted used car of the year 2007

MAZDA launches an all-new and more premium Mazda6 into the family car/executive saloon sector soon, after a reminder of its (pictured) predecessor's strengths.

It has just been judged Used Car of The Year 2007 by What Car? magazine, beating more than 3,000.

What Car? used car editor Matt Sanger said the winner was "A great combination of value, reliability and desirability, alongside its fine handling and driving abilities."

dles it in style. Handling and grip is also exemplary due to the lowered and stiffened 'Cup Chassis', now available as an option on the 'standard' Renaultsport 197.

Even more amazing is that this impressive chassis does not have the obvious downside of a teeth jarring ride.

The car's close-ratio six-speed 'box is slick enough for spirited driving, accompanied by a great soundtrack as you flick up and down; track day fans will love the fact that electronic stability control can be switched off for ultimate fun and games.

It might feel a bit wearing on the motorway home though; the close-set gearing means that even top doesn't free you from the throaty grumble of that engine.

For a car costing more than £17,000 there is also still evidence of links with cheaper versions of the Clio, even though the fit and finish of the current range is superior to the past and also brings roominess and practicality.

On the other hand you do get those Recaro seats, plus alloy pedals and chunky leather-clad wheel. No, Renault won't struggle to sell 500 F1s.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

COMPACT EXECUTIVE SALOONS

GERMAN marques dominate the compact executive saloon market – BMW's 3-Series is a top-10 seller in the UK. But there are good desirable and affordable alternatives for used car buyers seeking a little extra class and comfort without 'going German'. Opt for models that have the most extra goodies on them, because the premium you pay for these will be far less than the original private or company buyer had paid; you could get sat nav and leather, for instance for a few hundred pounds rather than several thousand.

LEXUS IS200

TOYOTA'S luxury arm used the BMW 3-Series as a benchmark for its first compact exec and hit the mark for style, value and driver appeal, but sales were hamstrung by the lack of a diesel. The IS200 also felt underpowered, but was juicy, while the rarer IS300 had the grunt, but was even thirstier. That said the IS-Series makes a great used buy with lots of kit and presence, while the second generation car is still rare on the used market.

JAGUAR X-TYPE

THIS brave attempt to attack dominant German models was affected by taunts that it was a re-worked Ford Mondeo. But this has proved unfair when the X-Type handles so well in both front and four-wheel drive formats. It is also affordable and has built a reputation for reliability, comfort and driver appeal. There is even an estate that is attractive and practical though it does command a premium second-hand. Best of all, there are two quality diesel options.

SAAB 9-3

THERE is a lot of Vauxhall underneath the Saab, but nothing wrong with that in terms of reliability and durability, especially when clothed by a low slung slinky body that deserves the 9-3's 'Sport Saloon' tag. Where the Swede has also scored is with a line-up of sporty yet frugal diesels. For used car buyers, prices should also become more attractive for older examples following a recent radical 9-3 facelift that will become increasingly common on the road.

 Vacancies for sector leaders

Following integration of Cathedral with the ISG brand we are experiencing unprecedented growth and as such we are currently seeking industry leaders to join the premier national retail and leisure brand. Experience in high quality interior contracting is essential for all of the roles below, however the successful candidates will receive first class overall remuneration package commensurate with these positions and excellent working conditions.

Senior Commercial Manager; The successful candidate must have excellent interpersonal skills coupled with previous commercial management experience. Ideally from a surveying or estimating background in interior construction with an ability to manage the whole life cost cycle of a project and relationship. Based in Kent with regular travel throughout the UK

Account Manager; The candidate must be an inspirational leader with previous experience as a Contracts Manager, an achiever with a proven delivery track record and experience in interior fit out and refurbishment projects. Based in Kent with regular travel throughout the UK.

Commercial Manager; The candidate should understand all commercial aspects of interior building construction, knowledge of costing, proactive commercial management and tracking. Previous commercial management experience. Excellent analytical skills and be a strong communicator with IT skills.

Close Out Manager; An immaculate individual with high personal standards, who has an all round understanding of high quality interior refurbishment projects, detailed understanding of the project close out process with flexibility to work evenings and weekends essential to this role. Proven planning and programming skills and a track record of delivery in prestigious interior projects.

Contracts Manager; The candidate must have good contractual knowledge, previous experience as a site manager, and experience in interior fit out and refurbishment projects with a high degree of detail. Good planning skills, commercial awareness and commitment to health and safety are essential.

CAD Design Draughtsman; The candidate must be fully conversant with Autocad, a qualified trade background ideally in joinery and previous site experience. An ability to work under pressure and be able to build relationships with Architects, Designers and professional consultants needs to be demonstrated.

Please email CV's in the first instance to laura.clements@isgcathedral.com

DOVER • CALAIS FERRIES

Port Operations Assistant

We are looking for confident, adaptable people to welcome our passengers at the Port of Dover and provide a high standard of customer service.

Initially, you will be trained to work in either our freight or tourism sector where you will make bookings, check-in customers for travel, answer enquires and provide up-to-date information regarding sailings. As your skills and knowledge increase you will receive further training to enable you to work in both sectors of the business, as traffic levels demand.

You will need to be computer literate, must have good customer service skills and be capable of working under pressure. A full driving licence and the ability to speak a second European language would be beneficial.

Hours of work are on a 3 on, 3 off roster basis involving day and night shifts of 12 hours duration.

Rates of pay start at £15,759 per annum rising in increments to £17,687 per annum within 12-18 months. You will also receive up to 6 weeks holiday per year, contributory pension, life assurance, company performance bonus and concessionary travel benefits.

To apply, please send a CV and covering letter to recruitment@seafraunce.fr or SeaFrance Ltd, Whitfield Court, Honeywood Close, Whitfield, Dover, CT16 3PX
Closing Date: 9 November 2007

 COULD YOU GIVE A CHILD A CHANCE?

Integrated Services Programme (ISP) is an independent, not-for-profit childcare organisation providing foster care to children with a wide range of emotional and behavioural needs. We have Centres in Kent, London, Bucks and Sussex.

ISP looks after children from many different ethnic and cultural backgrounds including white UK, African, African-Caribbean, Asian and dual heritage. We are keen to recruit carers from similar cultural backgrounds.

IF YOU

- are over 25, single or a couple
- would like to work from home
- have the ability to work with children or young people
- have a spare bedroom
- have the ability to learn and rise to the challenge of fostering
- have children no younger than 8 years old

ISP WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM YOU
We offer full training, 24 hour support and a professional fee from £402 to £531 a week for each child.

For an information pack please contact our Fostering Team on:

EMPLOYMENT IS THE GOAL, EDUCATION IS THE KEY

Rainer City Training Solent has an outstanding track record of engaging with under supported young people. Our entry to employment programme (e2e) achieved a 72% success rate, with learners progressing into work, education or further training. Building on our successes in the Solent area we are now establishing our e2e provision in Kent. We are looking for an educational practitioner who can communicate their passion for learning to our young people.

Learning & Employment Co-ordinator

Up to £25,402

Kent – Swale, Thanet & Medway

Ideal for an experienced teacher or trainer, this peripatetic role involves developing and delivering our E2E programme through community based venues in Swale, Thanet and Medway. You'll induct, guide and support E2E learners – assessing their needs and working with them to establish an appropriate Learning Plan. Having done so, you'll then provide training, monitor progress and forge links with other agencies involved in programme delivery.

To meet this challenge, you'll need qualifications in such areas as teaching, training and counselling in the development of learning. An understanding of NVQs and Key Skills is important too, as is the ability to record information. Crucially, you must also be able to communicate with, and relate to, young adults – particularly those who are under supported.

BELIEVING IN YOUNG PEOPLE

Successful candidates will be required to consent to checks by the Criminal Records Bureau and like the idea of service users having a say in their appointment.

Diversity is our strength. Could you make us stronger?

Teacher Taster Days

Interested in becoming a teacher but not sure what it involves or if it's the right choice for you? If you are a graduate or in the final year of your degree and want to find out more please visit our website (below). Our taster course is to be held on 11, 12 and 13 December in conjunction with Canterbury Christchurch University.

Children's Centre Managers

Starting salary £29,190, with progression through contribution related pay to £34,507 per annum

Cheriton: Ref CFE/07/405

Dymchurch: Ref CFE/07/406

New Romney/Lydd: Ref CFE/07/407

Enthusiastic and motivated, you will co-ordinate, develop and promote new Children's Centre services for the Cheriton, Dymchurch and New Romney/Lydd areas, in order to make life better for local children and their families.

Together with our existing centres in Hawkinge, Folkestone and Hythe, these new centres being created on primary school sites will deliver the Sure Start Children's Centre core offer of services to children across Shepway. These services include early education integrated with childcare, family support and outreach to parents, child and family health services and Jobcentre Plus.

You will need to engage local partners from the public, private and voluntary sectors, to work alongside staff from a range of backgrounds and professions and lead effective multi-agency working. Experience of working with local communities is vital, as local children and families are key partners in the development of their Children's Centres. Shepway is a socially and increasingly ethnically diverse district and there is a need to engage families from all backgrounds.

You will have a degree or equivalent professional qualification in health, social work, education, community work or a similar field.

You will have experience of working with children, families and communities and project management experience. You will be able to manage a multi-agency project and have good communication, leadership and budget management skills. You should understand how to promote effective participation of parents, young children and the wider community. You will have or be willing to work towards the National Professional Qualification in Integrated Centre Leadership (NPQICL).

We are committed to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of children and their families. This post is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure Application to the Criminal Records Bureau.

For more information, please contact John Mitchell on 01233 898540 or Veronica Dorset on 01622 626766.

Closing date: midday, 20 November 2007.

Programme Manager - Skills for Life

KAES 6 – 10 £22,200 - £26,475 per annum pro rata

Part-time 18.5 hours per week

Covering Canterbury and Swale (office base to be negotiated)

Ref: CD/07/262

Enthusiastic and forward thinking, you will develop, manage and deliver Family Literacy, Language and Numeracy (FLLN) programmes, alongside other Skills for Life programmes.

Ensuring high quality learning opportunities meet KAES and LSC Quality Standards, you will plan, deliver, monitor and quality assure Skills for Life courses as part of a county-wide team. You will lead, develop and support tutors, ensuring learner retention, achievement, success and progression.

FLLN courses are designed to help parents/carers to support their children's learning through knowledge and understanding of the school curriculum and improve their own skills. Students are encouraged to work towards the National Tests in Literacy and Numeracy. Experience (or knowledge) of the National Curriculum strategy is an advantage.

This post is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure Application to the Criminal Records Bureau.

Closing date: midday, 19 November 2007.

To apply, visit www.kent.gov.uk/jobs Alternatively, please email recruitment.line@kent.gov.uk or call 0845 8247 904. Please quote the appropriate reference.

BTCV is the UK's leading practical conservation charity working with people from all sectors of the community in positive action to improve the natural environment.

Environment Centre Manager - Singleton Ref: ECMS

Based in Ashford, Kent, 35 hours per week
Salary £20,970 to £27,854

This role will be to drive the business and manage the new Singleton Environment Centre in Ashford, Kent. This is a new facility, delivered in partnership with Ashford Borough Council, that is to be developed both as a flagship for local environmental action, and for BTCV as an organisation. Equally important will be the role it plays as a local community facility for Singleton and the wider Ashford area. It will involve creating and implementing business and operational plans for the centre, being responsible for ensuring the financial viability of the facility and managing staff and contracts such as a catering franchise.

You will be required to promote the centre to a wide audience and manage the centre's use and activities. This is a new undertaking and so you will be required to develop information systems and report back to the centre's steering group on a regular basis.

You will have proven experience of managing facilities or business, be dynamic and entrepreneurial with the dedication needed to drive the business forward and have excellent computer skills, and demonstrate good communication and time management skills.

The post holder will be employed by BTCV and report to the BTCV Area Manager.

For an application pack, please e-mail: recruitment@btcv.org.uk or telephone the recruitment line on: 01302 388844 quoting the reference. You can download an application form and view a job description from our website.

Mission Aviation Fellowship UK

New opportunities at MAF

Mission Aviation Fellowship is a Christian organisation operating light aircraft in developing countries so that people in remote areas can receive vital help. In the UK, MAF is a registered charity which raises support for this worldwide ministry.

We are currently looking for three motivated and enthusiastic people to join our team which is committed to helping make a difference in some of the world's neediest countries.

Major Donor Executive

We require someone with a successful track record of working with major donors or, alternatively, someone with a successful career in business-to-business sales at a senior level. This role involves developing and maintaining relationships with such people, achieving major one-off and ongoing funding.

You will require a great deal of patience, and be prepared to develop relationships with major donors over a long period of time.

If you are highly motivated and flexible, with good interpersonal skills, you may be just the person we are looking for.

For an informal discussion about the role, please contact Robert Kirby-Maynard on (01303) 850950.

Recruitment Assistant

As a member of the Human Resources department, the job holder will co-ordinate recruitment and induction activity for MAF

UK, supporting in the provision of staff and volunteers for UK-based and overseas-based roles.

We are seeking someone who is able to work independently or within a team environment, but in an integrated way, supporting the objectives of MAF UK. The job holder will have effective communication skills, good attention to detail and be able to organise multiple priorities and deadlines. This role will require some travel and working out of normal working hours in order to represent MAF's vacancies at events around the UK.

Ideally, the job holder will also have an understanding of charity work and HR experience.

Supporter Relations Assistant

Our busy Supporter Relations team is responsible for many different activities which include preparing gift acknowledgement letters, responding to telephone enquiries and keeping our database updated.

If you are organised and efficient, with good interpersonal skills and a friendly manner, we would be delighted to hear from you.

There is a genuine occupational requirement for the holders of these posts to be committed Christians. This is due to the impact and influence of the roles, and the need to represent and communicate MAF's values and beliefs.

Overview and Scrutiny Officer

£18,952 - £26,650 (career grade)

"An excellent opportunity to develop a career in one of the most dynamic and challenging areas of local government in a local authority that is setting the pace in scrutiny"

Overview and scrutiny is an innovative and expanding area of local government and Maidstone, described as a "byword for success", has developed a national reputation for innovation and best practice in this area. We are looking to recruit an ambitious and enthusiastic individual to compliment the scrutiny team and build on our successes in scrutiny.

Your work will involve background research into topics as wide and varied as abandoned vehicles, climate change, changes to hospital services, tourism and mobile phone masts. Politically aware, you will have a key role supporting committees in their work on policy development and holding the Cabinet to account.

This is a demanding position working in a high-profile political environment. You will need to have strong and proven research skills and be able to grasp new ideas quickly and be confident in identifying, gathering and analysing a wide range of information. The post will involve evening meetings (for which overtime will be paid).

As this post is a career grade even if you do not meet all of these criteria but want to work in such a role, we would like to hear from you. For the right candidate we can develop a training package that will equip you with the skills you need.

SALARY:
£8 - £8.50 per hour depending on qualifications and experience
COMPANY:

Thanet Early Years Project
Thanet Early Years Project is looking to recruit a temporary Manager at Smarties Childcare Centre, Thanet College Campus, Broadstairs from 3rd January until 23rd July 2008 as the present manager will be seconded to another setting to cover maternity leave. Smarties is open between the hours of 8.30 am and 6.00 pm and provides good quality childcare and education to children between the age of 2 and 8 years old. You would therefore need to have a flexible attitude to your working hours. An unpaid break of _ hour would be taken each day when working over 6 hours per day. We are looking to appoint a Temporary Manager who can demonstrate experience of providing good quality management, supervision of staff, managing budgets, and who can work in partnership with Thanet College and other agencies. You would need to be qualified to NVQ Level 3 or above in Early Childhood Care and Education. Relevant post qualifying early year's childcare experience is essential. We can offer 20 days holiday per year (pro rata), and you would receive regular supervision and support from the Project Manager and Head Office personnel. If you are an enthusiastic, dedicated, flexible childcare professional who would welcome the opportunity to share your skills and attributes with this established team, then we would love to hear from you. For an informal chat about the role, please contact Kim White on 01843 600110. Please contact us for an application form and job description. Interviews to beheld week commencing 26th November 2007.

ENGINEERING, MANUFACTURING, UTILITIES

JOB TITLE:
Assistant Coastal Engineer
LOCATION:
Folkestone
SALARY:
£20,004 to £24,444 + Benefits
COMPANY:
Shepway District Council
At Shepway we are facing exciting challenges and require the right staff to achieve the delivery of a number of quality projects. Do you have the qualities and skills to meet this challenge? The district is undergoing major change with a range of projects to improve the quality of life for its residents and visitors including further environmental improvements to the coastline. The Council wishes to recruit an Assistant Coastal Engineer who will work with a team of engineers to deliver such projects as the Strategic Regional Coastal Monitoring Programme, the Coronation Parade Refurbishment Scheme and the Beach Management Scheme. As a member of the Project Team, you will play a supporting role in the Council's key coastal projects and assist with other projects when required. Responsibilities include carrying out GPS beach surveys, producing and amending technical drawings, helping with data collection for grant aid claims from central government and supporting the Project Team. The successful applicant will have a sound understanding of coastal processes and a good working knowledge of land surveying, have an interest in engineering, and be willing to take part in GPS based coastal monitoring. Shepway District Council is a pro-active, forward thinking authority, with a strong commitment to its customers and staff. For an informal discussion, please call Simon Brooks, Senior Coastal Engineer on 01303 853305. Application details can be downloaded at www.shepway.gov.uk Interviews will be held shortly after the closing date.

MANAGEMENT, SENIOR POSITIONS

JOB TITLE:
Chatham Maritime Trust Trustee
LOCATION:
Chatham
SALARY:
Voluntary
COMPANY:
Chatham Maritime Trust
Chatham Maritime Trust was launched in 1997 to take on the long-term maintenance and management of the Chatham Maritime Estate. Chatham Maritime is a 350-acre regeneration site which is well advanced and houses 1300 homes, the Universities at Medway, various leisure developments, and a number of commercial offices. The Trust is responsible for key infrastructure and the public domain, and supports the growing community. The Trust won the 2007 Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors' Award for Property Management Strategy & Delivery (Public Sector). We are seeking one or more additional Trustees to join the Board on a voluntary basis, and are particularly looking for individuals with a background in (property) law, accountancy, PR/Media, or local government/community. Living or working in or near the Medway Towns is desirable. The Board meets three or four times a year (during working hours) but we hope that Trustees will also become involved in a committee and public liaison work, which is likely to lift the commitment to perhaps a day a month. Thanet Early Years Project is the largest childcare provider in Thanet, and we are looking for individuals with clear values and standards with a little spare time to join our Board of Trustees. Thanet Early Years Project is a local voluntary organisation with charitable status. It was established in 1987 as a response to community concern back by demographic data. Please see our website www.thanetearlyyears.org for more details of our settings. You may also like to read our fantastic Ofsted reports - visit www.ofsted.gov.uk and click on the link to inspection reports for our settings. This is a voluntary position, and there is an expectation of commitment to attend one Board Meeting per month, which is held in the evening, plus additional duties as they arise. If you feel you would be interested in joining our Board of Trustees, then please contact Maria Knight who will arrange for an expression of interest form and an information pack to be sent out to you. Please contact her at Thanet Early Years Project on 01843 591200, or you can email maria@thanetearlyyears.org.

KCA (UK)
KCA (UK) is an expanding and vibrant organisation providing a wide range of high quality and innovative specialist services. Founded in 1975 and currently employing over 300 paid and unpaid staff, it has an annual budget of £11 million and is becoming established as one of the leading service providers in the South East Region. Our aim is to deliver individually tailored care packages that are effective in reducing drug and alcohol related harm and are based on cost-efficient structures, processes and delivery mechanisms. Working closely with medical staff, you will provide assessment and keyworker support to service users accessing the substitute prescribing service. The aim of the role is to assist chaotic injecting drug users to stabilise their drug use and lifestyle. Significant experience of working with people with drug related problems, a genuine commitment to this client group and a background and qualification in nursing or other relevant profession are essential. There is scope to be involved in developing associated specialisms within the team. For application forms contact: KCA (UK), 44 East Street, Faversham, Kent ME13 8AT. Invest in skills time for leisure and tourism

A SERIES of free one-day training courses is being offered to leisure and tourism businesses.

Courses include management, communication and e-business training and will be held in the workplace or venue.

Fran Warrington, head of Kent Tourism, which is organising the sessions, said: "For a relatively small investment of time, tourism industry staff can gain valuable new skills and abilities which they can put to work immediately."

Ten participants are needed for each course. Where a company can not commit this number of staff, there is a possibility of combining with other businesses.

Phone Kent Tourism on 01622 696936.

Sick figures for work days lost in South East

THE Health and Safety Commission says 4.8 million working days have been lost in the South East during 2006-7 due to workplace injury and ill health.

Statistics published by the HSC also reveal that there were 35 fatal injuries to workers, 3,484 reported major injuries to employees, and 12,880 cases of ill health to employees, which led to more than three days off work.

Overall, the statistics show a 0.37 per cent decrease in injuries in the South East over the past year, compared with a four per cent decline in the UK as a whole.

The report showed the construction industry was the most hazardous area of work.

Successful cash payouts for company tax claims

INNOVATIVE science and technology companies in Kent have received a share of £51.5 million in cash payments from HM Revenue & Customs' specialist Research & Development Unit (R&D) in the last year.

The Maidstone unit, which covers Kent, Sussex and parts of Essex and London, has dealt with almost 1,000 claims in the last year with the figures published on the unit's first anniversary.

Further information on the HMRC's new specialist R&D tax credits units is available online at www.hmrc.gov.uk/randd/special-units.htm.

Industry leaders' desire to play active part in the community

TALK: Survey aimed to get to the heart of needs of local business to help them thrive

BUSINESSES should be at the heart of every community in Kent, according to a new survey.

Eighty-four per cent of business leaders across the county felt they should play an active part in schools and community projects.

The heads of more than 200 organisations and companies, including chambers of commerce, professional bodies and trade organisations, took part in the study carried out by the South East of England Development Agency.

Forty-seven per cent of company chiefs in Kent felt business prospects for the next six months looked the same as the last half year, but 23 per cent said the outlook was better.

Disturbingly, 22 per cent of those quizzed felt the forecast was bleak.

Only 32 per cent of business leaders said

■ BY JON COATES

Kent was a good place to invest or run a successful organisation, while 41 per cent thought it was average.

The study also asked what were the main factors enabling companies in the county to thrive and grow.

Twenty-five per cent said it was customer focus, 19 per cent pointed to exporting and international trade, and 14 per cent rated creativity and innovation, and sales and marketing.

The survey also found that 40 per cent of those quizzed felt it was feasible to reduce the carbon footprint of businesses, while 26 per cent argued it was not.

The local factors which affected business growth were named as bad transport by 26 per cent; drugs, drink and violence by 15 per cent; and expensive or scarce housing by 15 per cent.

SEEDA carried out the survey as part of its last call for entries for its first South East Business Awards.

Jeff Alexander, executive director of SEEDA's global competitiveness division, said: "We aim to get to the heart of the needs of our local business communities and this research highlights the factors that make a thriving environment and pinpoint areas for development."

"That is why the South East Business Awards will showcase outstanding business achievements so far."

Companies can apply for the awards at www.southeastbusinessawards.co.uk. The closing date for applications is November 28 and winners will be announced on March 6.

Three goals put Deal third

DEREK Hares' Deal Town were back to winning ways in the Premier Division Cup with a 5-0 win against struggling Faversham Town.

Town had their best start to a game this season, scoring three times in 17 minutes with Aaron Robinson breaking the deadlock on 10 minutes.

Robinson scored again, before David Cory's strike took the lead to 3-0 at the break.

Faversham tightened the defence in the second half, but Deal managed to score twice. The result moves Deal into third place.

Paul Scally unveils Mark Stimson as the new Gillingham manager

Hat-trick gets Hythe a victory

FANS at the Reachfields Stadium witnessed a Roy Godden hat-trick, which helped Hythe Town to a 5-1 victory against Slade Green.

It was Slade Green that stunned the home crowd, scoring with just five minutes on the clock.

Hythe Town re-organised and equalised through Godden on 20 minutes and Lee Winfield's strike took the home side into the lead at the break.

Two goals in as many minutes from Godden secured his hat-trick and paved the way for victory.

Buster Smissen scored the final goal of the afternoon, when his pace helped him break through the Slade Green defence.

The result sends Paul Fisk's side to the top of group D in the Premier Division Cup on six points.

They will hope to continue this goal scoring form when they face Herne Bay in the Kent League this Saturday. A win for Hythe could see them rise to sixth place, just four points behind the team in third.

VICTORY: Frannie Collin's first half goal helps keep Dover Athletic's cup dreams alive this season, but they left it late against a strong Brackley side

FA Cup dream still calling to Athletic

A JIMMY Dryden header with 14 minutes left on the clock sent Andy Hessenthaler's Dover Athletic into the third round of the FA Trophy.

Dover Athletic could have won this game by more goals with the amount of chances they created. Although they were forced to hang on by the end, as Brackley went in search of a late equaliser.

Dryden was back in the starting line up at Crabble Stadium and had the best of the early exchanges. His long range effort looked certain to make the net bulge, but the ball hit the side netting.

Dryden was involved in the first goal of the afternoon, when his long ball into the area was met by a sliding Frannie Collin, who fired the ball into the top corner.

Dover should have increased their lead towards the end of the half, when John Keister waltzed into the Brackley area, but his shot was tame.

FOOTBALL

■ BY YOURSHEPWAY REPORTER

Dover Athletic 2 Brackley 1

In the second half, Brackley stepped up a gear and stunned the Dover fans when Tom Winters finished a good move, leaving goalkeeper Dean Ruddy with no chance.

However, Dover had not given up, substitute Craig Cloke delivered a pin-point cross, which Dryden headed with precision into the top corner.

With two minutes left on the clock, Brackley threw everybody forward. They were almost rewarded for their bravery, as a cross into the Dover area caused chaos in the defence. Dover goalkeeper Ruddy had to produce an outstanding one-handed save to his right to deny a replay.

This was a good victory against a side above Dover in the non-league football pyramid. However, Hessenthaler will need his strikers to take their chances in order to gain promotion.

Last week, Andy Hessenthaler had his striker wish granted as Dover welcomed back Shaun Welford to the club, signing him from Jim Ward's Ramsgate. Dover defender Laurence Ball went in the opposite direction to join the Ryman Premier outfit.

Hessenthaler said: "The appearance of Welford seems to have upped our strikers games as three of them scored against Met Police. Welford does give us another option up front especially with winter coming and the possibility of picking up more injuries. We have gone over our budget now, so it will be difficult to keep all of our strikers happy – we might have to move one on."

Dover will be back in action in the Ryman Division One South this Saturday, when they travel to play Surrey side Chipstead.

• Dover recorded another league win against Met Police last Monday. Goals from Hessenthaler, Collin and Dryden paved the way for victory for the Whites, with a 5-2 win at Crabble Stadium.

UNLUCKY: Dover lose but not for lack of trying in tough clash against Old Elthamians

Trying day for Dover side

Old Elthamians 22 Dover 1st XV 20

TWO disallowed tries in the dying minutes of the match proved pivotal in the outcome of this game, as Dover lost by just two points.

A breakaway try was scored by Old Elthamians and two further scores followed, with Dover answering through Martyn Beaumont's penalty.

Dover did have the majority of possession, but their efforts were error strewn and opportunities were missed.

Strong words were expressed at the interval and the second half was better from the Sharks.

Dover applied pressure and Beaumont kicked a penalty to reduce the deficit.

Ricky Stanley took to the field after 50 minutes, but only lasted a minute before being binned for a moment of madness. The following penalty decision was reversed against Dover.

Straight away Old Elthamians's increased their lead, with their left winger chipping cleverly ahead to cross the Sharks line.

Beaumont scored on the hour and converted to get the Sharks back into the game.

The pressure mounted on Elthamians's and Greg Hower scored a try. The conversion followed.

In the closing minutes, Dover needed one score to win and they thought they got it, but Jamie Townley's try was disallowed.

Coupled with this dubious decision, Ricky Mackintosh thought he had scored the winning try, but the referee claimed he had seen a forward pass in the move.

Coach Graham Tonks said: "Yet again we are the authors of our own misfortune. We played well in stages, but the mistakes cost us as did the decisions in the dying minutes. We must now prepare for next week against league leaders Deal Lions."

Cugley frustrated by lack of cutting edge

Ashford Town (Middlesex) 0

FOLKESTONE Invicta were left to rue their missed chances as honours were even for the second time in a week at the Buzzlines Stadium.

Manager Neil Cugley said: "We were lacking forward power, despite starting well. We missed some really good chances to score which was disappointing.

"I was disappointed we couldn't come up with more attacking ideas. We could have gone sixth with a win, but instead we are ninth."

The nearest the home side came to breaking the deadlock was in the 13th minute, when 18-year-old Ashford goalkeeper Craig Ross touched captain Roland Edge's far-post volley onto the upright, and then kept out Leigh Bremner's close-range effort from the rebound.

On 28 minutes, Ashford's Scott Weight went close for the visitors, but his shot went over.

The Middlesex side continued to threaten Invicta on the break and almost scored, when Jon Palmer headed over.

Invicta fought back and had another chance to score at the start of the second half, when Ross saved with his feet to deny Bremner.

It was Ashford who had the best chance to take the game in the closing stages, when the lively Palmer broke through the defence, but Invicta goalkeeper Charlie Mitten stood firm.

Invicta will be in action in the Ryman Premier this Saturday, when they travel to Maidstone United.

■ A first-half goal from Ben Sly put Invicta in the driving seat against Margate last Monday at the Buzzlines Stadium. However, a stunning equaliser in the second half from Margate's Ryan Peters saw the game end 1-1.

WHAT'S THE DRAW? Folkestone battled valiantly but dropped two points at home against Ashford Town

Deal & Betteshanger 22

Chichester 16

A SECOND half try from Matthew Michael ensured Deal and Betteshanger claimed the points and stayed top of London South East Three.

It was a game that Deal & Betteshanger should have won by more, as they failed to turn the pressure and possession into points.

Tom Best opened the scoring for the Lions, as he successfully kicked a penalty to give the home side the lead.

The lead did not last long as Chichester were awarded a penalty and their fly-half stepped up and he put the ball through the posts.

Luke Armstrong finished off a well worked move when he sprinted through a gap in the defence to cross the line in the corner.

A further penalty kick from Best took the score to 11-6 at the break.

Chichester stepped up the pace in the second half, scoring two quick tries from their winger to take the lead, but the Lions did not let this

FIGHT BACK: The Lions (in White) claw their way back to secure vital win which keeps them top of the league knock their confidence.

Matthew Michael picked up the ball from a five-metre scrum and powered over the try line to retake the lead.

Two more successful penalties from Best made sure the points were going to Deal & Betteshanger, as the final whistle sounded.

The Lions are now just a point above second place Gravesend in the league. Gravesend have stepped up the pressure on Deal & Betteshanger, following a 45-10 victory over Old Dunstonians.

They will hope to take their form into their next game against rivals Dover on Saturday. Dover beat the Lions already this season in the EDF Energy Cup and the Whites will want revenge for that defeat.

SPORT IN BRIEF

Optimist fail to see the bright against Ashford

FOLKESTONE Optimist Hockey men's 1st XI came out on the wrong side of a seven-goal thriller against Ashford last weekend.

Ashford started the game quickly, going a goal up in the opening five minutes as Chris Smith found a gap in the defence.

Folkestone equalised minutes later, but it wasn't enough as Ashford scored four more.

Optimist did score a consolation goal before running out 5-2 losers.

Folkestone lose a close battle with Hastings

FOLKESTONE Rugby Club suffered a narrow defeat as they went in search for their third league victory against Hastings.

In a tight game, it was Hastings who came out on top in the second half, scoring the crucial points to take the final score to 20-12.

This week, Folkestone will look to bounce back when Crowborough travel to the New Burlington Ground.

Crowborough are fourth in the league and will provide a strong test for Folkestone, who could go third if they win.

In-form ladies preparing to crush visiting Stones

DEAL Ladies Hockey Club have a top-of-the-table clash this week, when in-form Maidstone Ladies 3rd XI are the visitors.

Yvette Illsley's side are the only team in the Kent Outdoor Division Two who are still unbeaten and sit fourth in the league.

A win against Maidstone could see Deal rise to the top spot in the division.

They will be full of confidence going into the match, after a hard-fought draw with third-placed Dartford last weekend.

Rampant Bull aiming to charge ahead on the oche

THE Dover Darts Invitational League is back in action this week, with two teams still unbeaten in Division One.

High-flying Bull A will be looking to record seven wins out of seven when they come up against Archer A. Boars Head Diamonds, who are also unbeaten, play Seaman's Mission who will be recovering from a heavy 7-2 defeat last time out against Bull A.

Fresh from their 6-3 win over Phoenix Cups, Dublin Man of War take on bottom-of-the-league Hairy Bull.
